INTERNATIONAL CODE OF OENOLOGICAL PRACTICES

Interruption of alcoholic fermentation by physical procedures

II.2.3.6 Interruption of alcoholic fermentation by physical procedures

Definition:

Arresting the alcoholic fermentation.

Objective:

To obtain a product containing endogenous sugar.

Prescriptions:

- a) Only the physical techniques: heat, cold, filtration and centrifugation may be used.
- b) The product obtained shall remain fermentable.

Recommendation of OIV:

Admitted

11.2.3.6